

16 November 2017 – incident update

Dear local residents and businesses

We are writing to provide you with an update on the incident reported to the Environment Protection Authority (EPA) regarding the Goodlife gym on the corner of Payneham Road and Portrush Road.

The EPA issued a clean-up order to the owner of premises of Goodlife Health Club at Payneham on 3 November to identify, delineate and undertake remediation of the affected area.

The EPA has received clearance certificates from the Environmental Consultant who is satisfied that the asbestos contaminated material that was disturbed at the site has been removed from the site.

The EPA is satisfied that the conditions of the clean-up order have been met and:

- Results from the air monitoring and internal swab samples taken after the incident showed nil detection for asbestos
- The EPA is continuing its investigation into possible breaches of the Environment Protection Act 1993

SA Health has advised that incidental exposure at such low levels does not increase the health risk. People concerned about their health should discuss their individual concerns with their GP, while general health enquiries can be directed to the SA Health Public Health Information Hotline (08) 8226 7100. For questions relating to the incident please contact the EPA on: (08) 8204 2004 or email: engage.epa@sa.gov.au
