

Media statement

---

3 November 2022

Pumping ends at Dry Creek

The most recent program of work to remove surface water from a pond at the Dry Creek salt field has ended.

Pumping began in late September and has now ceased after a scientific and technical assessment by State Government agencies.

There will be some activity at the site today as equipment is removed.